A HEART OF COURAGE AND TRUST:

Maybe it will take time to be okay again. But there is still Hope to carry you through this phase and you do not have to get there today. Let life take its time. Even if you try you cannot escape the difficult days, you cannot let go of all the feelings in your heart in an instant. You have to embrace them in order to overcome them. Give love to yourself, practice being patient with the process. Remember: you do not always need an answer, sometimes all you need is a heart of courage and trust and the belief that even in the darkness you will find your path.
