Loving yourself is a slow process, it takes time. Some days you will find it hard to love yourself, you might feel like you will never be able to love yourself again. But don't be too stressed about it. Have faith in your heart. Be there for yourself every single day, even on your hardest days. Reach out to yourself with love and stay patient. Remind yourself that you are going to be there and you are not giving up on yourself. And then with time you will fall in love with yourself again."
